CNRL committed to the area and heavy oil

Company plans 60-well-per-year drilling program, recompletions

Eastern area field operations manager Scott Stauth told visitors at Canadian Natural Resources Limited's open house in Elk Point last Thursday that CN is "here for the long term. We're committed to working with the landowners, and to using local companies when possible."

The purpose of the open house is "to show you some of the activity in the area," Stauth said. He introduced Superintendent of Heavy Oil Cam Kinniburgh, production foremen Ron Marcichiw, Andre Campeau, Bernie Parenteau and Dave Cousins, assistant foremen, landmen and other CN personnel who were on hand to answer questions and provide information to area residents.

The acquisition of former Petrovera properties on February 18 of this year brought CN additional production of 5400 barrels of oil per day from the Frog Lake area, where the holdings are "fairly dominant. There's a lot of oil coming out." They have identified 75 potential new drilling sites in the former Petrovera property, and "a whole lot of wells that were shut in, are slated for potential recompletion."

CN has 125 full time employees, contractors and consultants in the Elk Point, Bonnyville and Lloydminster areas, and generate $55 million per year in the immediate area. "That doesn't include drilling activity." CN pays about $3 million a year in county taxes, and in recent years have put close to $600,000 into the development of the Murphy and Moosehills roads, "which has benefited CN quite a bit. We can use better roads for our trucks."

CN "decided it was important to our investors to come up with a strategy, a five year plan for each operations area," Stauth said. "Essentially, our plan is to maintain current production areas, with 60 new wells per year."

"Because of the large number of suspended wells, 200 will be scheduled for recompletion per year. "Last year, we did at least 300 recompletions and the success rate was fairly good." However, Stauth cautioned, "we're going after zones that may not produce as well as the original. We have to operate in a manner to make sure we keep our cost down. That's the only way we can do this with marginal wells."

CN also plans to drill a number of new wells in the Moosehills area, on land acquired from Murphy Oil. "We'll be fairly active in there over the next few years."

He told area residents they can "expect to see about the same, or possibly slightly more activity.

It will enable us to continue to continue to do drilling and recompletions."

Stauth said CN is committed to work with and will try to seek input from stakeholder groups. They also belong to LICA.

The company tries to contribute to the quality of life, and each area has a donation budget. Recently, CN contributed between $60,000 and $65,000 to a CAT scan unit for Cold Lake Health Centre.

In addition, Stauth said, "$55 million goes into the hands of the people working for us, which goes to stores and services in the area. We try to encourage that."

A recent change in policies has seen contractors filling out applications for prequalification. "We're going more and more into bidding out services, to make sure our shareholders get the best bang for their buck."

"We're here for the long term. We're committed to being in this area and in heavy oil. We feel we will be the last company standing in heavy oil," Stauth concluded. "And we wouldn't be here today if not for the good people committed to working with us."

CN hosted personnel and guests to a fine roast beef dinner as part of the open house.

Federal Liberal candidate Joe Dion visits Chamber

Federal Liberal candidate Joe Dion told last week's Chamber of Commerce meeting he is confident that despite the problems of his party, "I'm confident this riding can be taken."

Dion returned to the Kehewin area after living in Vancouver for a number of years, and bought a house on Moose Mountain. "This is my home." He has been involved in the oil industry for the past 24 years, and also is well experienced in agriculture and First Nations government. His company is currently drilling successful wells in the Frog Lake area and is in partnership with E-Can Oilfield Services, Tar-sands Steam Cleaning and Pimee Well Services.

Dion was accompanied by Joe Moyah, a Frog Lake First Nations

councillor and assistant to the chief, who has worked with Dion in the oil and gas industry for the past three years. Moyah said the First Nations "have been supporting the town for many years, it's time we made use of that support in the coming federal election. Our chief and council are supporting Joe. It is time that we work as one, and have a voice in parliament with a representative from here. We need each other to make things happen. I think Joe has a lot of potential, and has had a lot of experience in business."

Dion, who won the nomination over Bonnyville mayor Katherine Wiebe, said he has met people from across the extensive riding, and is "really encouraged by the support I'm getting from business and farmers." His wife's family is from the Westlock area, at the west end of the riding. Dion has spent time in discussions with MLAs Ken Kowalksi, Denis Ducharme and Ray Danyluk to learn about concerns specific to the area.

"There are points we need to work on during and post-campaign. One of my strong values is bringing people together. I do that all the time. I believe strongly in building communities, and I see potential in this area."

Dion recently met with the federal minister of agriculture and says "the small farms are who feed the community." He feels value added and packing plants would keep money in the riding. He is a strong proponent of shopping locally, and says "what we're doing tonight is a real good step. We've got to get back to dialoguing. We've got to push that hard. We must respect diversity. It's got to come from both sides."

Dion feels he can be successful in Ottawa. "I'm not scared to talk, or to fight for what's right. There are a lot of issues out there, and I feel very confident I can address them. We need honest, open government if we are going to get respect." He added that the government has to be fiscally responsible and "tax dollars have to be well managed."

"We've got the resources and the people, but if we don't get a voice in government, we'll be barking on the outside again," he concluded.

which would replace the rescue van. The rescue van is too small, Nielsen says. "We require a lot of equipment for the area we have, with its lakes, trails and river. We have an ice rescue team, and we're looking at a diving team. All these require special training and equipment. We need a unit to carry that equipment."

Nielsen said the next step will be for the firefighters to raise funds. Their first fundraiser will be a Fireman's Ball on Saturday, June 5, with a supper, dance and silent auction. While they will not be canvassing for silent auction items, he told the Chamber the firefighters would be "more than happy" to have prizes donated by businesses. "We would also like to see people buy tickets and come. It's a way for businesses to help while having fun." Tickets are now available from the firefighters.

Lions plan their annual "Journey For Sight"

The Elk Point and District Lions Club will again be sponsoring a 10-kilometer "Journey For Sight" this year. The vent will take place on Saturday, May 8 beginning at 9:00 a.m. at the Elk Point Curling Club and finishing at the gazebo by the golf course.

Lunch and award ceremonies will take place at the gazebo and rides will be available to return walkers to the Curling Club.

This year, 50 % of the proceeds will go toward various eye-related projects. The remaining funds will be allocated toward projects in Elk Point and district.

Once again there will be an oil-field company challenge, a school challenge and individual prizes. Pledge sheets are available from the Lions members.

Journey For Sight chairman Stacy Dunham and the Elk Point and District Lions Club thanks the community for their great support in the past. They are looking forward to another successful walk-a-thon this year with the community's support of this worthwhile project.

April is Cancer Awareness Month

Aspen Regional Health
Review Contributor

Cancer continues to take a serious toll on the health of all Canadians. More than 139,990 new cases of cancer were diagnosed across the country in 2003 and 67,400 people died from the disease. In Alberta, an estimated 12,000 new cases of cancer were diagnosed in 2003 and there were an estimated 5000 deaths due to the disease.

Raising awareness of cancer is one of the keys to beating the disease and that's why April has been designated Cancer Awareness Month across the country. Based on current incidence rates, 38% of women and 41% of men will develop some form of cancer during their lifetime.

Despite these staggering numbers, research shows that overall, 30 per cent to 35 percent of all cancers can be prevented by eating well, being active and staying at a healthy weight. Making simple changes to the way you eat and becoming more active are two measures in the defense against many types of cancer, such as colon, uterine, breast (post-menopause), kidney, esophageal and gall bladder cancer. It's also recommended that men and women have an annual physical from their family physician.

Once someone has been diagnosed with cancer, they are often required to take chemotherapy treatments, which can last anywhere from a short 10-minute session to sessions of six hours or more. In Aspen Regional Health, there are Community Cancer Centres in Barrhead, Bonnyville and Hinton. The goal of these cancer centres is simple - get chemotherapy treatment to the people who need it, as close to home as possible.

To access treatment at one of the cancer centres in Aspen Regional Health, patients must first go to the Cross Cancer Institute in Edmonton for diagnosis, where a patient's chemotherapy protocol is first established. If the type of protocol determined at the Cross Cancer Institute is available in the Aspen Region, patients may be able to access their treatment at a facility closer to home.

Being a volunteer

Although last week was National Volunteer Week, I still want to talk about volunteers. I found this neat poem by an unknown author that expresses how it feels to be a volunteer

It's not for money, it's not for fame,

It's not for any personal gain.

It's just for love of fellow man.

It's just to lend a helping hand.

It's just to give a tithe of self,

That's something you can't buy with wealth.

It's not for medals won with pride,

It's for that feeling deep inside.

It's that reward down in your heart,

It's that feeling you've been a part,

Of helping others far and near

That makes you be a volunteer.

In the dictionary, the word volunteer is said to mean: "One who enters into or offers himself for a service of his own free will." So it is easy to see how the above poem has expanded on the dictionary definition of a volunteer. The poem describes feelings of giving freely. There are rewards.

To be a volunteer brings

deanna
EASTHOPE
from the FCSS desk

real value to our standard of living. Basically, if we did not have volunteers who help make life easier and more enjoyable, we would have a low standard of living. Have you ever thought of it that way? In other words, our "real estate" value of our living is higher because of volunteers. Let me explain. First of all, do you know where land got the name "real estate"? It was in England. The term originally meant a

"royal grant"/ All land once belonged to the king in England, and the only way a person could get any of it was by royal grant. Now, isn't that something?

I would like to compare real estate, or a royal grant, to the best in each of us which includes our talents and time. We are the "king" of ourselves and when we give of ourselves, we have given a royal grant when we volunteer. So, with all this explanation, I hope you agree with me that to be a volunteer and volunteering is the highest contribution a person can make.

John Wesley's simple rules of conduct for living said it best when he described giving what we have to others. A big THANK YOU to everyone for being a volunteer and for following John Wesley's simple rules of conduct for living. THANK YOU and thank you!

As long as ever you can.*

Eric Mosley wins Regional level Optimist speak-off

Next stop Wyoming for FGM student

Eric Mosley, a student at F. G. Miller High School, won the Regional level Optimist Public Speaking Competition in High River, AB on Saturday and will be going to Wyoming on May 15, where he has a chance to win a $1500 scholarship. His sister Kate also competed at High River, after winning at Zone level.

Under the direction of their coach, Elk Point Elementary teacher Bernice Capjack, Jordyn Wozniak, Kate and Eric entered the Optimist Public Speaking Competition in Edmonton, speaking on "Working, Thinking and Expecting the Best".

All three students won at the first level, receiving medallions for their efforts on April 7, 2004.

On April 16, the three competed at the Zone level in Edmonton. All three received medallions and certificates. At this competition, Kate and Eric placed first and earned the right to represent the Central area of Alberta at High River.

Congratulations to all three students from the staff and students of Elk Point Elementary School and F. G. Miller High School.

FGM political scene heats up

The political scene at F.G.M. is becoming considerably more interesting this week, with the formal start of elections occurring today. The acting Students Union members will be giving presentations to students throughout the day, providing them with information about how they can be on the executive next year.

Students have until next Tuesday to declare their wish to run for a position on the executive.

Over the last three years (which is the time I have been involved in the Students Union) a lack of student interest has often resulted in vacant seats or people winning uncontested

john BRAGA
F. G. Miller High

positions. Despite this we have progressively formed stronger executives who take an active role in the school.

The quality and quantity of events that are provided to the students seem to increase with passing each year.

In part this is likely due to the fact that the people who run for office have the dedication, determination, and ability to carry through the promises they made to the student body by running for election. What is important is that we have a strong executive that is willing to work for the betterment of the school.

This year we are attempting to stir up more interest amongst the student body; there is a wealth of untapped potential within the school that we hope will come forth to continue the hard work that we have done so far.

Following the end of nomination week the candidates will have until Monday, May 10th in which they can campaign. Any position that is contested will be voted for on Tuesday, May 11th, with the results available by the end of Wednesday. The formal transfer of power to the new executive will occur on Tuesday, May 18th.

May 4 registration for STARS golf

Planning for the fifth annual Elk Point Emergency Services Golf Tournament is well underway, with the event slated for Wednesday, June 2.

Tournament chairman Fred Lambright and his committee would like to thank the tournament's previous sponsors and golfers. "Together, we have been able to donate in excess of $62,000 since the tournament's inaugural year in 2000, to the Shock Trauma Air Rescue Society. The tournament continues to be a success with numerous people stepping forward to donate cash and prizes to this worthwhile cause."

The organizing committee has decided to change this year's format, and would prefer that all sponsors provide a cash donation rather than prizes for the tournament. For sponsors who would prefer to donate a prize, these will be gratefully accepted and will be made available to participants in either the silent auction or as a door prize. In lieu of a golf prize, each participant will receive a commemorative golf shirt and mug, 18 holes of golf, a complimentary refreshment and a steak supper for their $60 entry fee.

The first 18 paid Platinum (cash donation of $1000 and up) and Gold (cash donation of $300 to $999) sponsors who pay their cash donation and golfer entry fees will be guaranteed a four-person team in the tournament. Applications will be accepted on Tuesday, May 4 starting at 9:30 a.m. at the Elk Point RCMP Detachment. No team entries will be accepted prior to that date. An organization or business that wishes to guarantee a team must pay the entry fees for the four golfers ($240) plus the minimum sponsorship for either Platinum or Gold. A fifth golfer will be added by the organizing committee. The tournament will remain in a "Texas Scramble" format with a maximum of 90 golfers.

Other sponsorship categories include Silver, for a cash donation of $200 to $299, and Bronze, for a cash donation of $200 or less.

LEARNING TRADITIONAL SKILLS - Baba Olya (Yolanda Kinjerski) and Gido Mikola (Andrea Lee) teach Canadian grandchildren Anna (Leigha Bishop) and Peter (Katelyn Maennchen) to roll, fold and pinch dough into perogies.

Prom time for Heinsburg Grade Nine students

Seven Grade Nine students were the toast of Heinsburg High School on Saturday, April 24, as they celebrated the end of the Junior High years with family and friends.

Quinn Crooker, Gabby Dion, Bentley Faithful, Bradley Fryingpan, Elizabeth Quinney, Jody Stanley and Keneil Stanley entered the beautifully decorated gym with their escorts through an arch of pastel balloons, and took their places at the head table. Following a Cree prayer by Dewey Dion, everyone enjoyed a fine meal provided by Jody Stanley's family.

The Grade Nines then took their places on stage as they introduced their parents and escorts.

School Board trustee Darrell Younghans called the seven "a pretty talented bunch" at a milestone in their education. "We are pleased and proud your families have chosen to send you here."

Home room teacher Mr. Brown was keynote speaker and said "some of my greatest honors have been teaching these young people. It is a privilege and honor to share in their lives. These will be your leaders of the next generation."

Tammy Dikeman said the class was "the beginning of my Heinsburg career" in her Grade 3/4 class. The students are now "at the start of your adult years, and the end of your childhood years." She wished them success in "the next three years of challenges, dreams and wishes"

Each student was presented with a scroll and pen to commemorate this milestone in their lives.

Gifts were presented to Mr. Brown and to MC Randi Daniels, as well as to the parents or guardians of each graduand as students left the stage to line up for the final march.

Hurray, hurray the first of May, the baseball season starts that day. That's right the boys of summer are back. The Sox spring camp started last Tuesday with twelve returning players from last years provincial gold winning team and at least one new face, year that the Sox have entered the Metro League and it really pays off to compete at a higher level. Think about how well the Sox did last season, it provides good competition and tough pitching that the Sox will benefit from as they prepare for another provincial run. The AA Metro League has 20 teams entered from as far away as Calgary in the south, Grande Prairie in the north, Edson to the west and Elk Point to the east. Although the Sox will not see these teams in their schedule, they do play a lot of games, and you must be willing to very promising. And once again this year the Sox will be playing in the Metro AA league. They will be hosting Sherwood Park in the season opener this coming Saturday May the 1st. a double header starting at noon at Bassett Field.

This will be the third travel, each weekend they will play at least one double header at home or on the road.

And just in case you missed the announcement last week, the big news coming out of the office of Baseball Alberta, Elk Point has been once again awarded the Midget A Provincial Finals on July 23, 24 and 25th. Don't you miss it this year!

In some other ball

news, most teams should be practicing this coming week, some players are still needed at most levels, so if you still wish to sign up, you can contact Laverne Wilson at 724-3878 for more information. Also coming up this weekend on Sunday May the 2nd a fastball clinic for the girls. Contact Murray Cochrane 645 5323 for more information. And on May the 8th. in Bonnyville there will be an umpire clinic. Contact Lavern for more information.

And now for the K. A. Campbell's quote of the week. "Being behind the bench is the best job in hockey." Last week's answer to: "I'll take a young pair of legs over an old head anytime" Dick Irvin, ex coach. Do you have any scoops? Now you can e-mail them to sportshound007@hotmail.com

Politics heating up for FGM Student Council elections

On this coming Thursday the student executive of the Crusader Clarion will be taking a day long field trip to Edmonton. The excursion includes tours of the Edmonton Journal's down town office building and their production plant. After the year-long publication of the Clarion this trip will provide us with the opportunity to see how the large scale media firms operates. The May publication of the Clarion will include reports describing what we saw on the tours. The May edition will also be the last one of the school year, allowing the students involved in the paper to the June to study for their finals. However the staff organized Crusader Updater will continue to be published right up to the end of the school year, continuing its excellent job of informing the student body of important events.
